

CHAUNCEY DEPEW CELEBRATES 90TH BIRTHDAY APRIL 23

"Grand Old Man" Lists Nine Events
He Considered Greatest For American Development
During Lifetime

GREAT AMERICAN STATES MAN HAS SEEN FOUR WARS

NEW YORK, April 7.—Chauncey M. Depew will enter upon his 90th year April 23.

The grand old man of American politics has seen four wars—and their aftermaths. He has been a friend of Gladstone, the statesman, and of Joe Jefferson, the actor.

He has made speeches in the halls of congress and before the motley crowds of the Bowery.

Since he became connected with the New York Central Railroad it has grown from a length of 128 miles to a length of 5000 miles, and he has seen the railroads of the United States grow from 3000 miles to 300,000 miles since he entered the railway service.

He has survived cults and fads and still retains the simple faith his mother taught him.

What are the nine biggest events that Chauncey Depew has seen in the nine decades in which he has lived? He tells of them here, in his own story.

By Chauncey M. Depew
The first big event that I remember was the Mexican War. I was 14 years old then and it stirred with tremendous notions of chivalry. However I could not include the Mexican War as being one of the nine big events which I have witnessed. Neither could I include the development of the railroads as that development has covered too long a period of time to be designated as an "event."

Here, then, are the nine big events which I have seen in my lifetime. I consider them big because of the far-reaching effects on the human race.

ONE: The election of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency. This was important not only because of Lincoln's association with the Civil War but also because of the influence which the character of Lincoln has had on the whole world.

TWO: The proclamation freeing the slaves. This was the first great blow at property which had heretofore been held in profound respect. It was the forerunner of the present day agitation over the rights of property. But it took slavery out of the present institutions and made the Declaration of Independence the vital idea of the United States.

THREE: The World War. This was important because by its very horror it has paved the way for peace. The governments which instigated the World War have been overthrown. Future rulers will not be so anxious to rush into war when they reflect that they are likely to lose their jobs in consequence.

FOUR: The publication of Darwin's theory of evolution. It liberalized thought; it helped to break down the narrow dogmas of a personal devil and a brimstone hell; it showed that all things are in a continual process of evolution.

FIVE: The giving to the world of Pasteur's discoveries. I consider that he has done more than any other individual to benefit the human race.

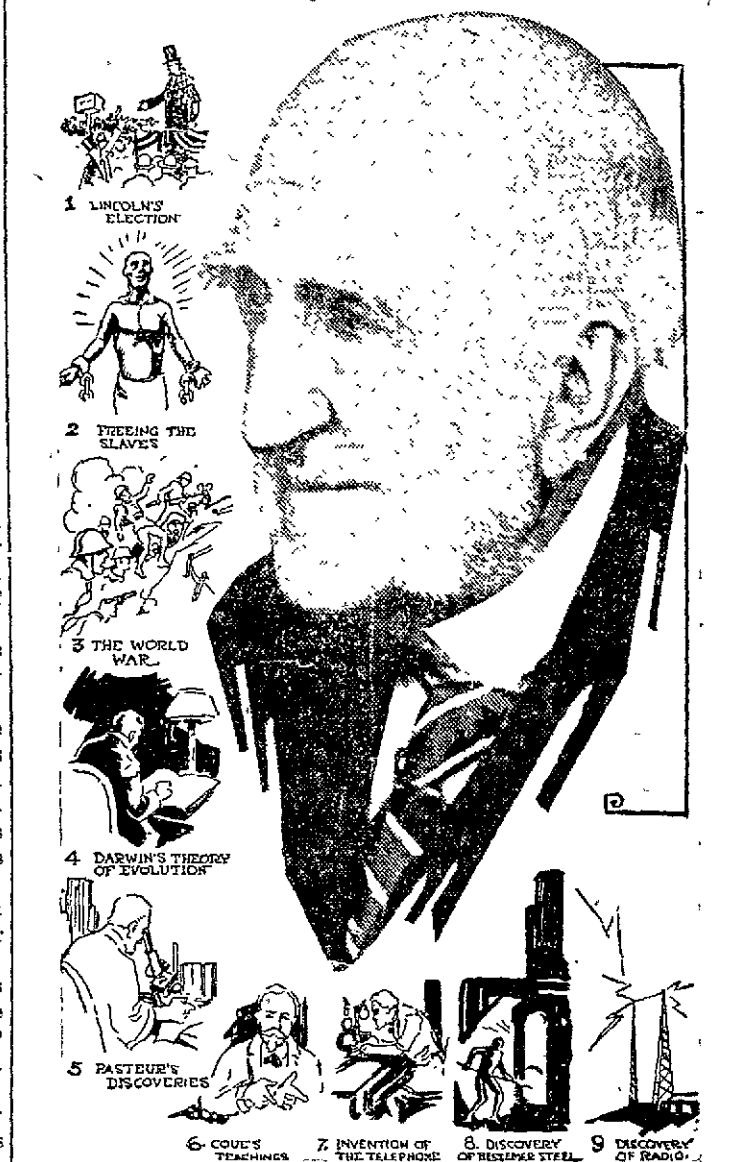

SIX: The preaching of Emil Coue of the powers of auto-suggestion. Coue did not discover auto-suggestion but he is showing men and women how they may improve themselves with it. The United States is built upon the development of the individual. Arousal that development hinges its whole future.

SEVEN: The invention of the telephone. When the first telephone company was formed I took a sixth interest at $10,000 and kept it for a week. Then I took somebody's advice and got out. If I had kept that interest I would today be worth hundreds of millions of dollars. But I would not be here to enjoy it. The case and five dinners would have killed me long ago.

EIGHT: Bessemer's discovery of his process of treating steel. It laid the foundation for one of the world's basic industries.

NINE: The discovery of radio. It opens up a field for development as limitless as the air itself.

COAL STRIKE ONLY DELAYED, REPORT

Knoxville Operators Think Will Come
In Fall—Union Not Ready
Now

KNOXVILLE, Apr. 7.—That a coal strike threatened in the Tennessee-Kentucky fields has been delayed until fall was the current opinion expressed in coal circles here.

"In the first place," one prominent coal man declared, "the union believes this is the wrong time to stage a strike. The men in this district have not been working so long since the last strike and since the railway strikes threw them out of work."

It is the opinion of several operators that the union is waiting until fall to stage a walkout.

Wm. A. Green, international secretary of the United Mine Workers of America and William Turnbaker, president of this district, declared the same agreement has been signed and there is no further need of a strike. He said there would certainly be no strike at least for a year's time.

Mine along the L. and N. railway are now producing about 40 per cent normal and mines along the Southern are producing about 60 per cent normal. Along the Knoxville division of the Southern mines are producing only about 30 per cent normal and along the Cumberland valley road are producing about 35 per cent normal, according to reports compiled by mine operators.

NEGRO SHOPLIFTER AND JAIL- BREAKER BACK TO TENNESSEE

Percy Daniels, negro shoplifter who was captured here recently, has been returned to the Nashville prison by officials of that institution. Daniels told the officers here that he had escaped from the Tennessee prison. Upon communicating with the officials this was found to be true. Daniels, it is said, was serving a twenty year sentence there when he escaped. It is presumed that the cases against him here will rest until the expiration of his sentence in the other prison.

BILL LEWIS GIVEN SIXTEEN YEARS

Fourmile Man's Trial at Winchester
Yesterday Brings Sentence—
Probable Appeal

Bill Lewis, charged with killing Maude Wilson at Excelsior on December 4, 1921, was convicted of manslaughter at Winchester yesterday and sentenced to a term of sixteen years in the state reformatory. Policemen A. D. DeBask, Frank Crabtree and W. B. White who made the arrest appeared as witnesses at the trial.

The defendant sought to prove that he accidentally dropped a pistol on the ground and that Maude Wilson was killed by the discharge. Evidence indicated, however, that the bullet went straight through the head of the victim and did not range upward as would have been the case had the weapon been fired from the ground. The jury returned the verdict after a deliberation of seven hours and ten minutes.

The case was tried in this county once, a hung jury resulting. The defense in the recent trial was represented by Judge W. T. Davis and Judge J. G. Rollins. J. M. Gilbert of Pineville and Jim Golden of Barbourville were the prosecuting attorneys. Judge Gilbert says he will appeal the case.

INSANE ASYLUM CATCHES FIRE

Nurses Praised For Quiet Way Inmates Handled—All Taken Out Without Trouble

By Associated Press.
LAKELAND, Ky., Apr. 7.—Six hundred inmates of the Central hospital for the insane marched through smoke filled halls here today after a fire in the linen closet caused nominal damage. Origin of the blaze is not determined. It began in the ward where ninety-three of the most dangerous women patients were confined, they were quietly aroused and nurses guided them to the outside with a semblance of patience. More than five hundred others who were taken out in a similar manner as the smoke crept to other parts of the institution. Superintendent Walter Jilison acclaimed the nurses and attendants for work which he called heroic.

NEGRO SHOT IN AFFRAY YESTERDAY

Quarrel at Monarch Mines Resulted in Philip Branson Shooting
Dan Neal

Dan Neal, colored, was seriously wounded when shot by Philip Branson at the Monarch mines yesterday morning. The affray was the culmination of a bitter argument in which the men were engaged. Branson was arrested by Deputy Tom Cinnamon soon after the occurrence but on making bond was released.

The men were at work in the mines when the argument started. The negro is said to have struck Branson which act caused the latter to draw his pistol and fire one shot. Neal was struck in the shoulder by the bullet. A physician from Middlesboro was summoned and the wound treated. Plans were made to send the negro to the hospital this afternoon. It is thought that he will not survive.

Both of the men have been employees of the Monarch mines for a long time. Neither has a bad reputation for quarreling and fighting.

BASE BALL TEAMS NOW ORGANIZED

Gantes Will Probably Be Played On Rival Teams Grounds—Track Team Organized

Organization of a base ball team for M. H. S. is practically completed, according to Prof. Jack Porter, athletic instructor. With about twenty-five players, all of whom have been practicing each day the weather permitted, a good team has been selected. Players have been assigned to the various positions on the team. The problem of procuring a pitcher from the high school personnel has been the chief hindrance to progress in the sport this year. Roy Burch, eighth-grade pupil has been assigned to this position.

If M. H. S. plays any games this year they will be played on the ground of the opposing team on account of the condition of the local park. The fence has been gradually disappearing from the grounds made on it for fuel and now it is almost gone. No outdoor games for which paid admissions are required may be played here until another fence is built. The local team will probably not play more than two or three games this season owing to the fact that no games can be played here.

Several of the boys are interested in track work and it is thought that M. H. S. will have a team to enter the Southeastern Kentucky tournament this year. The date and place of the tournament have not been announced, but it is understood that it will take place some time next month.

LAURA PARSONS MURDER TRIAL RESET FOR SEPT. 7

HARLAN, April 5.—The trial of John Marcum, Jerry Reed, negro and James Robinson, negro, charged with the murder of Miss Laura Parsons, Pine Mountain school teacher, Sept. 7, 1920, was continued yesterday until Sept. 7, the third anniversary of the murder, on motion of the state. The trial had been set for next Friday but absence of state's witnesses was asserted as ground for the postponement. A statement was published in Harlan a few days ago to the effect that at witness to the murder of Miss Parsons was being held in Jail at Lexington. Sheriff Blair says he does not know of any such witness.

FOR A BETTER MIDDLESBORO

Are you satisfied with the progress your city is making, or do you have in mind ways in which it can be materially improved. The Daily News proposes to carry on a three-weeks' searchlight campaign of conditions in Middlesboro with a constructive rather than destructive purpose. The News asks all public spirited citizens to join in this campaign and bring forth all the suggestions they may have for a BIGGER AND BETTER MIDDLESBORO.

CANTRILL ANSWERS HAMILTON TODAY

Many Politicians Gather To Hear How Governor Candidate Will Meet Charges

By Associated Press.
OWENSBORO, April 7.—Politicians are here today from many parts of Kentucky for the opening speech of Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill, candidate for governor at democratic primaries next August. Greatest interest is evidenced in the answer he will make to the charges of Elwood Hamilton in an address at Madisonville ten days ago when Hamilton spoke in the interest of Congressman Alban Barkley.

FIRE DESTROY FIVE BUSINESS HOUSES AT TRENTON TODAY

By Associated Press.
HOPKINSVILLE, April 7.—Fire undetermined origin early today destroyed five business houses at Trenton with a loss of $75,000. Elton fire department and a bucket brigade saved the village.

Week's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Apr. 7.—Week's weather outlook: Ohio valley and Tennessee, generally fair, except rains probably Thursday or Friday. Much colder at beginning, normal temperature thereafter.

MARCH POSTAL RECEIPTS EXCEEDED LAST YEAR'S $500

Postal receipts for March exceeded those of the same month last year by nearly $500. The receipts for the first quarter which ended March 31 were $1200 more than the similar period of 1922. The increase in money orders was fifty per cent.

Asken to what cause the increase postal revenue could be attributed, Postmaster Chas. E. Cooke said it indicated good business conditions and a rapid growth of the city.

Though seriously handicapped by the temporary loss of the auxiliary clerk, the postoffice has been able thus far to carry on its work without complaint from the public. As the decrease in the number of clerks is general throughout the country, delay in receiving mail here may be caused by a shortage of help at the sending place.

NEW RECORD FOR ENDURANCE DANCE

New York Couple, Dancing Continuously 36 hours, Substantiate
"One Every Minute"
Theory

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Apr. 7.—Miss Ruth Hallock and Jack Butler made a new continuous dancing record at ten o'clock today after they had danced 36 hours and 13 minutes in a Broadway jazz palace. The old record is 27 hours. The couple began with a fox trot Thursday night. The woman lost eight pounds and wore out two pairs of shoes and stockings. The man lost ten pounds and is minus a thick-soled pair of shoes. Miss Hallock apparently had more reserve energy at the finish than her partner who is a world war veteran. Both are in good physical condition, however.

WORKS NEXT DOOR LICENSE CLERK AND FAILS TO GET TAG

There are all kinds of excuses, of course, and some of them are perfectly legitimate and justifiable. But when a man works next door to the license tag office and fails to provide his own car with one, does this constitute a valid excuse? The police here think not.

John Jackson Goodin, employed in the office of Squire Creesh, court house, Pineville, not only failed to obtain a license for his car but staged an unparalleled exhibition of nerve by driving up to the city hall here. The police who have orders to arrest all persons driving cars without license took charge of the offender.

Before his case was settled another man drove up without any license. Judge Wood allowed them to go unfinned on a promise that they would lose no time in procuring a license at Pineville.

ONLY ROUTINE BUSINESS FOR SCHOOL BOARD LAST NIGHT

Only the routine business occupied the attention of the educational board members at the meeting which took place Thursday night in the office of Supt. J. W. Bradner. Bills for the past month were read and ordered paid. A fair representation of the members was present. There being no new matters of importance to come before the body, there was an early adjournment.

WINDSOR JOCKEY CLUB PARK CLOSED BY HEAVY TAXATION

By Associated Press.
WINDSOR, Apr. 6.—The Jockey Club has definitely decided not to operate its park here this summer owing to heavy taxation of the Ontario government. Taxes will be $7500 daily in addition to the percentage from pari mutuel play.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS FINISH TAX REGULATIONS

The County Board of Supervisors adjourned Friday having finished raising and lowering the taxes of Ball County to meet the new state regulations, which increased the assessed value of land, timber and mineral, a million dollars, and which increased the value of city lots in Pineville and Middlesboro $400,000.

The board will meet again April 23 to hear all complaints. In the meantime notices will be sent to those whose taxes have been increased or reduced.

SHELL-SHOCK SOLDIER JUMPS FROM FIRE ESCAPE LAST NIGHT

Stricken with one the spells of which he is a frequent victim, S. H. Gilbert smashed a third-floor window with a chair at the Piedmont Hotel last night, ran up and down the fire escape ladder several times and then dropped to the ground! With the exception of a few facial bruises and a broken tooth he was not injured.

A hospital physician told the police that he would take the young man into the hospital if they would furnish four men as guards. This being impracticable, he was kept at the city hall last night and returned to the hotel this morning.

Mr. Gilbert, whose nerves were shattered when his ship was torpedoed during the world war, has been in Middlesboro about three weeks. He has had several such spells since he has been here and has been in the hospital once. R. B. Roberts, manager of the Piedmont hotel, has written to the patient's father at Paris Island, S. C., requesting him to care for his son.

CHILDREN HAVE HOLIDAY WHILE CENSUS BEING TAKEN

Work of taking the scholastic census was practically finished yesterday, according to Supt. J. W. Bradner. Nearly all of the teachers finished the sections assigned to them. It will be several days before the figures are tabulated, the superintendent said. A holiday was enjoyed by the pupils on account of the extra work of the teachers.

DEFENSE LAWYERS MAKE CHARGES AGAINST STATE

By Associated Press.
MARION, Apr. 7.—All untried criminal indictments growing out of the Herrin mine riots are nolle prossed today, following the acquittal by a jury last night of six defendants charged with murder in connection with the outbreak. State's attorney Middlekauff asserted that the testimony of reliable witnesses who came to testify at a great personal risk of violence had been impeached by witnesses for the defense who were "clearly testifying falsely."

A statement signed by all the attorneys for the defense said the statement of state's attorney, ignored the invasion of Williamson county by armed guards equipped with machine guns and there was a "daring challenge to law enforcement officers of that county." What the state calls reliable witnesses, the attorneys for the defense in a statement asserted were imported gunmen, two of whom in a statement declared they were in jail in Herrin at the time they claimed to have witnessed the occurrence about which they testified.

Attorney General Denounces

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Apr. 7.—Attorney general Brundage announced here today after the second acquittal in Herrin mine murders that justice cannot be obtained in Williamson county.

No Federal Prosecution

WASHINGTON, Apr. 7.—High officials in the department of justice said they would not initiate federal prosecutions against those charged with responsibility to the Herrin mine massacre and who escaped conviction yesterday in the state court, unless new facts developed.

TAKE IT FROM ME BIG HIT LAST NIGHT

Manning Packed With Pleased Spectators—Dancing and Music Particularly Good

Good music, comedy, interesting plot and graceful dancing were blended in "Take It From Me" resulting in one of the best plays shown here in some time. The house was packed and every scene was enjoyed; all of the dancing acts and nearly all the songs received encores.

There was enough complication of plot to satisfy the love for drama, yet not enough to make the play "heavy." The comedy throughout was clean and original. The play did not depend on the stage setting for its success, for this consisted of only two sets: The office of the Eggert company the the "Cozy Home." Tom Eggert, seeing that his enemy was trying to ruin his business so he would eventually get it back, projected a plan of mismanagement that would have led to ruin before the expiration of the year but for an unexpected piece of national advertising and the executive ability of the pretty secretary.

"Take It From Me" and "The Call of the Cozy Home" were songs which made the biggest hits. The dancing specialties of Robert Capron and Marjorie Sweet and Marjorie Fielding and Robert Barb were sensations. The comedy was furnished by Joseph Wilton, Charles Homer and Alice Hill. Many of the singers had excellent voices. The costumes were elaborate. C. O. Brown, manager of the Manning, is highly gratified at the success of the play. Receipts here last night exceeded those of Knoxville by $150. Lewis Newman, manager of the play, says that, in view of the success of this attraction, Mr. Brown will be able to get any of the New York plays for Middlesboro.

PRINCESS YOLANDA BECOMES BRIDE OF COUNT CALVI

Love Story of Eldest Daughter of Italy's King and Handsome Horseman and Soldier Reads Like Romance

YOLANDA GIVES UP RIGHT TO BE CALLED "ROYAL HIGHNESS"

By Milton Bronger
Rome, April 7.—When Princess Yolanda, eldest daughter of the king and queen of Italy, became the bride of Count Calvi di Bergolo today, the bridegroom had the laugh on all the gossips and wisecracks of Rome, Brussels and London.

For he, a man of humble station compared with a royal princess, carried off the lovely bride that gossip long was busily handing to a half dozen princes and to another half dozen of the richest young nobles in Italy.

It was known in a casual sort of way that Princess Yolanda had met Count Calvi two years ago at Tor di Quinto, near Rome, where the count had been detailed by the army to be inspector of the School of Equestrianism.

Princess Interested
Yolanda is enthusiastic about horses and she became interested in the good-looking young soldier who rode like a centaur.

She met him later in Rome, when he raced some of his own horses and even rode then when gentlemen jockeys competed. But the Roman know-it-alls just winked when they discerned the adoring look in Calvi's face.

The gossips recounted the names of the men who really had a chance; Prince Nicholas of Rumania, the crown prince of Greece, the Prince of Wales and the crown prince of Belgium.

Then there were some of the noblest Roman families—the Chigi, Colonna and Orsini, who had younger sons who were often seen riding and dancing with Yolanda.

Sees Count In London
All Italy was mystified last June when Yolanda, accompanied by only one lady in waiting, went to London incognito to spend ten days.

Real Story of Princess Yolanda's Romance With Cavalryman

She lived simply and went where she pleased. Where she mainly pleased was the international horse show, Italian cavalrymen were competing in some of the events; one of these cavalrymen was Count Calvi, who won a number of prizes and whose riding was enthusiastically applauded by a certain dark-haired young lady.

But even when Calvi returned to Rome and became a frequent visitor to the Quirinal palace and companion of the princess when she went riding to the hounds, the wise ones didn't catch on. So the announcement of her engagement to Calvi came as a big surprise.

The Count's Family
The di Bergolo's are comparatively a new family, as titled families go in Italy. The first count was Lazzaro Calvi, who got his title from the king of Sardinia in 1816.

The present bridegroom's father was in the Italian diplomatic service.

Count Carlo Calvi di Bergolo is an officer in a crack Piedmontese cavalry regiment. During the war he changed from the cavalry into the bombing service, so as to get more active duty, was badly wounded and was decorated for his bravery.

His sister Matilda married Prince Ange of Denmark, cousin of the Danish king. The Danish prince had to give up his claim to succession to the throne and his right to be called "Royal Highness," just as Yolanda had to do today to become his sister-in-law.

SAVED SICK SPELLS

Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Known Its Usefulness Over 30 Years.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out here on Route 3.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny, and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it."

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble."

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs. Be sure to get the genuine, Theodor's. NC-145

50 Years Will Metropolis Be In Dakota And U. S. Have 160,000,000 Population?

QUESTION MARKS ON THE FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF THE MAP OF THE UNITED STATES, AND DR. WILFORD I. KING, EXPERT WITH HIS SLIDE RULE FOR MECHANICAL MATHEMATICAL CALCULATION

By EDWARD THIERRY

NEW YORK, April 2.—What will the map of the United States look like 50 years or more from now? Where will the big cities be?

"Our growth and distribution of population depend on five things, answers Dr. Wilford I. King, economist of the National Bureau of Economic Research. "These are the five factors: Immigration, excess of births over deaths, water power, coal, and improvements in agricultural machinery."

Dr. King, a student of statistics, estimates the population of continental United States in 1923 at 110,000,000 (it was 105,710,620 in 1920) and predicts 120,000,000 in 1930 if present immigration laws are not changed.

"Present statistical trends point to probably 160,000,000 in 1970," he says. Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins University, recently predicted 170,000,000 by that time.

Then, 50 years or more hence, we will stand still, Dr. King thinks. These are his conclusions:

"Immigration will be negligible 15 or 20 years hence if curtailment laws continue. If it is cut off there will be no excess of births over deaths, and without either, there will be no population increase after another generation."

"If all immigration restrictions were removed, including those affecting Japanese and Chinese the United States may be easily half Asiatic within the lifetime of persons now living."

"Big cities of the future will be near water power and coal deposits, supplying electric power to industries. As the coal fields of the East become more difficult to mine and approach exhaustion, a great industrial city—a 'Pittsburgh of the Northwest'—may spring up in North Dakota, where is located America's greatest coal deposit. It is low quality coal, but the fields are untouched. Nearly are the great iron ore fields. Half way between is Fargo; guesses cannot be specific.

"New York should retain its supremacy unless the St. Lawrence waterway should be developed. Then cities of the Great Lakes—namely Chicago, grain capital—should make tremendous strides."

"Agricultural machinery will play a big part. Unless there is great improvement more and more people must live on the farm. The rural ratio in 1920 was only 48.6 per cent as against 54.2 per cent in 1910. Intensive productions of foodstuffs should come chiefly in the Mississippi Valley. The center of population (now in Owen county, Ind.) should be in the eastern part of southern Illinois."

Dr. King does not look for population expansion on the Pacific Coast at the expense of the East.

Great ports will develop there, statisticians say. Some predict supremacy for Oakland, Cal. A forecast made by Dr. Walter Laidlaw, of the New York City Census Committee, calls Bellingham, Wash., the coming great port of the Pacific Coast.

Baby's Fate Rests With British Parliament

MRS. CHRISTABEL HULME RUSSELL, AND BABY GEOFFREY, BELOW, JOHN HUGO RUSSELL, HEIR OF BARON AMPHILL.

By Milton Bronner

LONDON, April 4.—The House of Lords may have to decide the legitimacy of England's famous baby, 10-months-old Geoffrey Russell, innocent figure in the costliest and most sensational divorce suit in British history.

It is a parallel to America's Stillman case, but the stakes are not only wealth but a peerage.

Mrs. Christabel Hulme Russell, mother of Baby Geoffrey, has appealed the verdict which granted a divorce to John Hugo Russell, also an heir of Baron Amphil, former viceroy of India and onetime secretary to Joseph Chamberlain.

Russel is a grandson of the sixth Earl Beauchamp and great grandson of the fourth earl of Clarendon. His mother, Lady Amphil, is the daughter of an earl, and is lady-in-waiting to Queen Mary.

There have been two trials of the sensational case, which has cost $190,000 and the services of the most brilliant lawyers at the British bar.

Baby Geoffrey, of whom Russell charged he was not the father was not declared illegitimate, although the jury, having exonerated two co-respondents in the first trial, later found Mrs. Russell guilty of misconduct with an "unknown man."

English law weighs heavily in favor of a child born during wedlock, and the questions of legitimacy are usually decided under the legitimacy act of 1858. It is probable that if Mrs. Russell loses her appeal, Russell and Lord Amphil will start legal proceedings to declare Baby Geoffrey illegitimate. Because a peerage is involved, a committee of the House of Lords will have to decide whether the baby can ever be the fourth Baron Amphil.

Russell, 27, who served in the royal navy, testified that his wife exacted a promise that they were not to have any children for the first few years of their married life and that he had been a husband in name only. He said she wrote him passionate letters when he was away, but when he was at home she treated him coldly.

Crowds fought to hear the testimony, especially when the beautiful and smartly gowned Mrs. Russell was on the stand, and when the baby was brought into court to be compared with child pictures of Russell.

Piquant passages occurred when it was brought out that the husband frequently made up as a woman, keeping complete costumes including corsets and silk stockings.

"Does it strike you," asked the wife's lawyer, "that this would not increase your wife's feelings of respect?"

"I don't think it would make any difference," he replied heatedly.

His own lawyer accused Mrs. Russell of "acting" during her married life.

"Do tears generally come to your eyes?" he asked.

"Not unless I smell an onion," she retorted.

"Do you think our big actresses smell onions to provide tears?"

"I am not an actress!"

Mrs. Russell, denying misconduct with any man, also entertained the court with a description of her return from a dance one night to find her husband in his pajamas walking in his sleep in aristocratic Curzon street.

Woman's Guess Pays Her $10,000 a Week

NEW YORK, April 4.—How does it feel to be one of "The-onlys-in-the-World"? Here is a story about a young woman who has so many "onlys" it takes your breath away.

Anne Nichols, not yet 30, is the only woman in the world—

Who has an income of approximately $10,000 a week from her own individual work—

Who is a theatrical producer, director, and playwright—

Who staked her last cent that critics were wrong when they said her show was terrible—

Who now sees her show approaching a year's run on Broadway—

Who has six other companies touring America and another preparing in London—

Who has made a fortune answering the riddle: "What does the public want?"—

Who is far too good looking, according to tradition, for a clever woman.

And besides all this she is the devoted mother of a four-year-old boy. All of which is a remarkable record of "Whos."

Now as to the Why and How.

Anne Nichols says:

"The first thing a woman MUST learn is to have the courage of her convictions."

"Accept advice but don't use it if it's contrary to your inherent belief in yourself. Never fear for yourself—let the other fellow be afraid. Advice is the cheapest thing in the world and many a great success has been wrecked on the rocks of failure through the indecision that comes from too much advice.

"Remember there is no sex in brains or business."

"Don't be afraid of criticism. I started out to be a leading lady but had to begin in the chorus. When the girls poked fun at me for taking my future seriously I used to meditate: 'Poor things, they'll still be here when I've gone on.'"

"When you've got something you feel the public wants whether it's a drama or a lactated food, don't give up till you've given it to the public to judge."

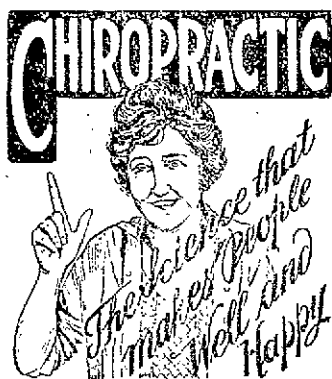

"A play that makes people laugh is a successful play. A diaphragm laugh is good for the digestion and we all know the human stomach plays an important part in the destinies of nations as well as individuals."

"Motherhood and a career? Of course they go together. A mother can do more for her son than just keeping his face clean. My son shall have every chance to be the thing he wants but I shall give him better opportunities toward obtaining the best, than I could when I was poor."

Anne Nichols whose success with Abie's Irish Rose is the sensation of Broadway—calls it her Ford, because it runs itself.

Woman Starts Legacy For Art For Future; Washington Gallery to Symbolize Her Gift

WASHINGTON, April 3.—One of the first contributors to perpetuate the fame and achievements of modern woman now stands in the art gallery at the headquarters of the National Woman's Party here.

It is a statue typifying the "Thinking Woman," and symbolizing modern womankind, a product of Miss Edith Ogden Heidel's chisel. Miss Heidel is a pupil of St. Gaudens, the famous sculptor, and her presentation of the "Thinking Woman" had the famous "Le Penseur" of Rodin in mind.

The idea of an art gallery dedicated to modern woman and her achievements is the conception of the leaders of the National Woman's Party. Miss Alice Paul, at the head of this organization, is now turning her efforts toward the contribution of paintings and other works of art for the gallery.

Hall of Fame

Thus it is planned, the greatest era of woman in the world's history, will be willed to the future in marble, bronze and canvas, as well as literature. Portraits of the great women prominent in the women's suffrage movement will decorate the walls of the gallery. Busts and full-length statues of women, as well as symbolic representatives of the various activities of women, will be placed between these portraits along the walls.

Miss Paul and her associates intend to make this age known to future generations as the greatest era of advancement to womankind.

"We have little or no word of woman's activities and her progress in the past," they say. "The future will be well supplied with records, paintings and other memorials."

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich. April 7.—Love most commonly appears in the guise of an inspirer, a creator, an unbuilder. But, less often, it takes on the form of a destroyer and leaves behind ruins and wreckage.

It played the latter part here the other day and left in its wake: A 19-year-old mother, Mrs. Thelma Beyer, dead from a pistol shot.

A high school senior, Filmore Heikkila, facing a manslaughter charge. An 18-months-old baby, waiting for its dead mother.

The story: When Randall Beyer was 18 and Thelma Brent 16, the twain ran away to Windsor, Ont. and were wed. This met with objection by Beyer's parents.

Leaves Bride
They induced him to go to Minnesota. Then it was sought to bring about a divorce between him and his young wife. Meanwhile, Thelma became a mother.

Thelma wasn't over-eager for a divorce—until, say police, she met Filmore Heikkila, handsome and dashing high school athlete. They became friends.

One day Heikkila came to call. Those in an adjoining room heard a shot. They rushed in to find Thelma dead with a bullet through her head.

"It was an accident," Heikkila told police later. "I was showing Thelma my new gun and it exploded. I wouldn't have killed her. You know I wouldn't."

Nevertheless, the lad will have to answer a manslaughter charge. And Thelma's babe is motherless.
